Administrative History

The Indiana Legislative Bureau was first created in 1907 as the Legislative Reference Department in the state library. The bureau was a division within the library until 1939, when it became an independent agency. The purpose of the agency was to assist the general assembly by providing members with impartial and accurate information and reports concerning the legislative issues being addressed.

Scope and Contents

This collection includes typed reports from the Indiana Legislative Bureau regarding standing rules and orders for the House of Representatives and the Senate. The collection also contains state and county finances, and two typed articles: Titles of Acts and the Passage and Taking Effect of Acts and Joint Resolutions in Indiana. The collection ranges from 1833 to 1937.

Arrangement

This collection is arranged by subject.
